

Claims

What is claimed is:

1. An ultimate picture frame, comprising: a) picture frame that is formed of light weight composite, not to limit to size or shape, transparent plastic front surface, a female coupling molded to posterior of durable frame, one access flange which folds upward and outward for opening to photograph film chamber. b) A male coupling which snaps into female coupling as claimed in 1a, this is a ratcheting device that allows picture frame to be rotated 180 degrees. c) As claimed in 1b, attached by a small rivet to join two ratcheting holder, on other side of this is a retainer which a flexible wand is inserted. d) as claimed in 1c, a flexible wand that is not limited to length or size in diameter, this wand is to be manipulated for desired effect. e) As claimed in 1c, a wand inserts into a female coupling which is secured by an adhesive bonding material, this section remains stationary.
2. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 1, wherein: a) multiple devices for mounting consisting of, but limited to, a clamp, suction cups on bracket, velcro on bracket, sticky adhesive on a bracket, dc adaptor plug in.
3. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 1, wherein: a) the device that holds a picture film is made with two casts, b) one cast consisting of four sides, two parallel sides, one bottom side, one back with female coupling, c) one cast which clips on top to seal film chamber.
4. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 3, wherein: a) transparent plastic leaf is inserted into chamber to protect picture film from being damaged.
5. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 3, wherein: a) is supported by female coupling, which a male end will snap into, this will allow picture frame to be rotatable and able to pivot.

6. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 5, wherein: a) male end is connected to ratcheting, two pieces bound together with a rivet, outside of one piece an inside of the other, this will allow connector to be secured, yet able to be moved 180 degrees, to be sustained in any position thereof.

7. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 6, wherein: a) female end of ratcheting device to be supported with flexible wand, this wand can be easily cut to desired length, inserted into female end, adhered with durable adhesive.

8. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 7, wherein: a) flexible wand is not limited to dimensions in diameter or length, wand is to fit snugly into female coupling and is to be supported by same ratcheting device as is claimed in 6.

9. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 8, wherein: a) the male end of ratcheting device, to be snapped into a female coupling on mounting base.

10. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 9, wherein: a) mounting base is constructed of durable, light weight material, clamps, suction cups, sticky adhesive, velcro.

11. An ultimate picture frame according to claim 10, wherein: a) mounting base be direct current (DC) adapter, low voltage to be within flexible wand, multiple lighting, but not limited to, that will illuminate picture film.
